Poetry.

H. G.'s Inquiry.

Tell me, ye winged winds,
That round Chappaqua fly,
Which will be next President,
Ulysses Grant, or I?
Oh! tell me, will I dwell within the White House blest?
Will all the nation vote for me from East to West?
The loud wind dwindled to a whisper low,
And sighed for pity as it answered "No."

Tell me, my honest men,
Jeff Davis, Schurz and Tip.,
Oh! will there be a slip
Between the cup and and lip?
Yes; by your own great hopes to win the highest place.
Oh! tell me if you think I will the office grace?
There faithful follwers swore in whisper low,
And answered in a chorus: "No!" "No!" "No!"

And thou, serenest moon,
Who givest light to the Sun,
Is not my triumph here
But only jus, begun?
Will not the boys and men old coats and white hats wear;
Old neckties and old boots, and thinly sown gray hair?
The moon upon the author famed of "What I Know,"
Looked coldly down, and sneering answered "No!"

Oh! good Republicans,
Will you forsake me now?
Will you to U. S. Grant
In humble homage bow?
And best loved Democrats, will you another man
Put up for President, and 'lect him if you can?
Both parties glared with equal bitterness,
And both together screamed the fatal "Yes!"

Selected Story.

The Pot of Gold.

BY REBECCA HARDING DAVIS.

Lieut. Calderwood was at his sister's house on a visit, during his two weeks' furlough. He was sitting with her one evening in the parlor, while her two children were studying their lessons at the table in the back room.

"So Paul is a lazy scholar, eh?" said the leiutenant, lowerin his voice.

"No, not at all. He is diligent enough, provided his studies suit his fancy. But what are they? If you look over his shoulder now, you'll finding poring over some Book of Dreams, or the History of Capt. Kid and his treasures, instead of his school books. The boy is deranged on the subject of growing rich suddenly, at some bold master-stroke. I wish you would talk to him. You are supreme with him just now. It may be you could ridicule him out of his absurdity; I cannot."

"But ought to be ridiculed?"

"James!"

"Well, call Clara in, and I'll go talk to him awhile."

Mrs. Forbes beckoned her little girl to her, and the lieutenant sauntered into the back room, and, I am sorry to say, lighted a cigar.

"Well, Paul, my boy, hard at it? What's the book? Latin or algebra?"

Paul colored a little. "Oh, I can run over my lessons in the morning. They're so horridly dull? I am reading now."

"Head of your classes, I hope, aren't you?"

Paul laughed. "No, indeed, nearer the other end, well, the truth is," throwing down his book, and leaning over confidently, "I've got it into my head to make money. Mother has hard work to get along with Clara and me."

"I know, Paul," said the lieutenent, gravely.

"Now, what good does this scanning of dead languages and poring over cube roots do? How much meat will that put in the pot?"

"How do you propose to help your mother?"

"Well, sir," whispered Paul, eagerly, for this was his first patient listener, "if I had a large sum of money that I could get all at once, without any delay—a large sum, then, afterward, I could make a scholar or what I pleased of myself."

The lieutenent drew the book Paul had been reading toward him. "Revelations by Clairvoyance and Spiritualism, regarding hidden Treasures." Paul watched him keenly, as he read the title, bnt not the vestige of a smile flitted over the lieutenant's face.

"I'll tell you candidly, uncle, about it," hitching his chair nearer. "Fred Parker came from Jersey, near where Kid burried his treasure. You know the place?"

"Not precisely; do you?"

"Not the exact spot, but it is near Burlington. Kyd burried the chest, and then called on his men to know who would stand guard over it for a hundred years. So one fellow stepped out, and stood firm till Kyd shot him through the heart. So they burried him standing over the chest, with his drawn sword in his hand. You've heard the incident?"

"Yes; but"—

"How will I find the place? Well"—Paul began to fidget a little, turning over the leaves of the book.

"Perhaps you will laugh at me, uncle, but I don't see why you should. The ancients called in the aid of oracles and dreams. They knew how to read events in the flight of birds, or by the entrails of beasts. If we cannot do so too it seems to me it is because we have lost the power not because the signs are not there to read. The wisest men have not been ashamed to be superstitious. It is only fools who think there is nothing in the world but what they can see and handle."

"I quite agree with you with regard to the fools, Paul."

Paul, who had been defiant hitherto, blushed with pleasure. "I don't know," he continued, "what credit to give to spiritual mediums. Fact is, I've run after them till I'm about tired. They've got all my last two quarters' allowance, and so I've had to go without new clothes this Winter. But if I could succeed! If I could only find the pot or chest! Just think! It would make mother easy for life!"

"Very true," said his uncle.

They were both silent for a while, the lieutenant smoking, and Paul turning over the leaves of his book with feverish haste, glancing up now and then, furtively, at his uncle.

"What first put this matter in your head, Paul?"

"I dont know. We really need money so often. And then Fred Parker told his stories of Kid's treasures, and I see these clairvoyant advertisements in the paper every day"—

"As to those mediums," said Lieut. Calderwood, thoughtfully, "my opinion is that they will take your money, and you will get no information in return. I have never had any intercourse with them, for I have no belief in their ability to tell you any thing you do not already know yourself. A friend of mine, Capt. Johns, told me of a woman, a fortune-teller, whom he consulted here as to his future life, who made some remarkable predictions, very remarkable, indeed. She sketched out his whole career for him."

"Who was she? Where is she to be found?" cried Paul, forgetting to ask whether the prophecies proved true or not—and they were most ridiculously absurd and untrue.

"At No. 81 Poplar-st.," said his uncle, after several moments of hesitation. "She was to be consulted only at night. But that was several years ago."

"I'll go and see her to-morrow night," said Paul. He was more nervous and unsettled than usual that evening, and sat looking in the fire for a long time.

"The boy is ruined," sighed his mother. "Nothing will ever restore him to common sense or usefulness."

"'It is a long day until sunset,'" said her brother, quoting his favorite proverb.

The next night Paul put on his overcoat just after supper, and his last doller in his pocket. His uncle had not been at home during the afternoon. Paul kissed his mother good-by once or twice.

"Where are you going, my son?"

"To make our fortune," he said, gaily, as he ran out.

No. 81 Poplar-st. was soon found. Beside it was a narrow, dark entry, lighted by a red lamp, which gave a ghostly and murderous light. Paul went up the winding stairs, and found at the top a door with a placard, on which was printed with a common pen,

"MADAME D'AUBRY, SEERESS."

Paul tapped. No answer. He tapped again.

"Enter!" said a hoarse voice.

He pushed the door, and went in. The room was bare of furniture, except another red lamp, which shed bloody glare over the gray walls, and a black antique chair, in which sat a tall, gaunt woman. She was robed in a loose, falling habit of black from head to foot. Her face, of which Paul could see little but the chin, was deathly pale. Now and then he caught a glimse of a pair of keen eyes, whitch he thought were both fierce and threatening.

She did not bow nor rise. He remained standiug before her. The very assumption of authority which this implied impressed and awed Paul.

"I came to consult you," he stammered.

The black-covered head nodded. "It is unnecessary for you to explain yourself further. Your name is Paul Forbes. You desire to know by what means you may obtain a certain treasure."

Paul was terrified. The other mediums that he had consulted had never told him actual facts.

"When do you hold a seance?"

"Now," in a hoarse grating voice. "I need no trumpery tables, or cards, or machinery. Do you ask whether I can see into futurity? You have a scar on your shoulder beneath your clothes, and an unhealed wound below your knee. If I can tell you about these things that others' eyes cannot see, you can afford to trust me for the truth of whatever else I may say. Ask what you will, and I will answer."

"How am I to obtain the treasure?" said Paul, trying to speak boldly.

"How am I to obtain the treasure?" said Paul, trying to speak boldly.

"How should I know what treasure you mean? But pause. The figure moved her hand slowly to her forehead, muttered for a few moments, then took it slowly down, and looked piercingly at the terrified Paul.

"The pot of gold waits for you, enough to give you fortune and power. Here are the directions by which you are to obtain it." She placed a small slip of paper in his hand.

"On these conditions," she said, in a hollow whisper, "that you solve the mystery of this paper alone. You are to receive no assistance in reading it; if you do, all is lost. Begone! you are answered."

Paul placed his money in her outstretched hand, and went stumbling down the stairs under the red lamp.

The next morning by daybreak he was knocking at the door of his uncle's chamber.

"What is this?" showing him a paper full of figures, lines, and diagrams. "Don't read it to me. Only tell me what sort of a puzzle it is."

The lieutenant raised himself on his elbow, smothering a yawn. "It seems to be a mathematital puzzle, Paul; the description of some locality, I think. I won't interpret it to you. It would need a good topographical engineer to do that. Where did you pick it up?"

Paul mumbled out something, and disappeared.

A week after the lieutenaut returned to his regiment. He noticed Paul busy every night with his mathematics, and his slate and pencil. The dreambook was laid on the shelf.

Several months after, Mrs. Forbes, writing to her brother said:

"I have something to tell you of Paul which I know will please you. Much to my surprise, he took the first prize in mathematics at school last term. Finding prize-taking agreeable, I presume, he has devoted himself to all his studies with renewed assiduity. But mathematics appear to be a passion with the boy. He told me that he designed studying topographical engineering, the very profession I would have chosen for him. I cannot tell you how thankful I am for his sudden change."

The lieutenant laughed, but made no other sign.

He heard from his sister but at long intervals, as he was stationed on the frontier, but every letter brought accounts of Paul's incessant, steady labor in the one direction.

Whether the hope of the treasure still urged him on, or whether he found that mathematics were his proper work, and that for which his talents and real tastes best fitted him, we cannot say. But it is certain that, at the end of three years, he was ready to enter the highest class in Practical Surveying of the Polytechnic College.

A year later, Lieut. Calderwood was seated in the door of his tent' when two or three strangers dashed up, and a stout, bearded, bright-eyed young fellow jumped off his horse, caught him by the shoulders, shook him, laughed, and ended by kissing him like a girl.

"Paul Forbes! Bless you boy! How did you come here?"

Paul jumped to his feet, turned red, and then burst into a shout of laughter.

"You were the seeress? I knew you were!" The lieutenant nodded. "Do you grudge a dollar for its prophecy?" he said. "As I look back now, I don't quite approve my manner of teaching you your lesson, but you have shown yourself a better scholar than I feared."

"Been appointed assistant surveyor of this Territory, sir? Attached to the Exploration Party under Gen. Hay. I can't tell you all now, only that I have the position for ten years, at a fine salary; and mother and Clara are snug and happy as they never were before. What do you think of that, Uncle Jem?"

Uncle Jem wrung his hand. "Think? Why, that you must have worked hard to achieve so much, Paul."

"Yes, yes, it took hard work!" nodding. "It's queer, too, what trifles will drive a fellow on a road, eh?"

Several months after, the lieutenant came upon Paul one day, who was looking at a bit of yellow paper, covered with figures and lines.

"Do you know," said he, looking up, "there's a puzzle that took me years to work out? I did it just before I left home, and I found the answer to it—nothing."

The lieutenant paused, and smiled. "Hard, healthful study, a good profession, and a good income will not serve for a pot of gold, then, Paul?" he said, with a shrewd twinkling in his eye.—[The Companion.

Miscellaneous.

Spotted Them All.

The Era has made the complete round of the Democratic State and District tickets, and not a single name escapes. They are all, by The Era pronounced and proven (?) scoutdrels, thieves or murderers.—Charlotte Despatch.

If our charges are not true, why not deny them? Let us see what we have charged:

I. We charged that Judge Merrimon was confidential friend and adviser of Swepson; that he drew the bill or bills by which the State was robbed of several millions of dollars, and a large debt saddled upon our people. We proved this by Judge Merrimon's testimony before the Fraud Commissioners.

II. We charged that Judge Merrimon was the early friend of Col. Geo. W. Kirk. We prove this by the record of a public meeting.

III. We charged Merrimon with indicting forty women of Yancey county, as respectable as any women in the State, for the crime of Grand Larceny, when the only crime of which the women were guilty, was the breaking open of a door to a tithing house, and the taking of twenty bushels of corn; that Judge Merrimon refused and did not nol. pros. the indictments until his fee of four dollars in each and every case was paid. We stand ready to prove this charge if Judge Merrimon denies its truth.

IV. We charged Gen. Collett Leventhorpe, Democratic candidate for Auditor, with arresting forty-two respectable women of Randolph county; that he confined them in a bull-pen; that the women were not allowed a moments privacy; that the thumbs of Mrs. Owen were placed between the rails of a fence, soldiers made to get on top of the fence, and Mrs. Owen was tortured in this way to make her tell where her husband was, who would not fight against the Stars and Stripes; that these women would not have been set at liberty but for the efforts of Hon. Thomas Settle, who sued out a writ of habeas corpus, and Brigadier General Leventhrope, of the Home Guard, was compelled to release them and cease his inhuman torture.

V. We charged Maj. John W. Graham, Democratic candidate for Treasurer with the murder of Northeote; that Maj. Graham knew that murder was to be committed; that he left his command before sunrise and Northeote was murdered at sunrise; that Maj. Graham skulked out of the way, because he did not possess courage sufficient to prevent the taking of innocent blood.

VI. We charged Hon. W. M. Shipp, Democratic candidate for Attorney General, with allowing Swepson to escape trial for his crimes in robbing North Carolina; that Judge Shipp allowed Swepson to compromise for six cents on the dollar, thereby setting up a premium for robbery and embezzlement.

Such, in brief, are the charges we have made against the Democratic State ticket. They have not been denied. They will not be. If the truth makes scoundrels, thieves or murders of the nominees of the Ku Klux Democracy, we are sure it is not our fault.—Era.

Anecdote of Tom Corwin.

When the late Tom Corwin was quite a young man he was elected a member of the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, and early in the session he brought in a bill for the destruction of the public whipping post. He made an earnest speech in favor of the measure, to which an elder member replied as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not as old as I am, and has not seen as much of the practical operation of the system of punishment which he desires to abolish. When I lived in Connecticut, if a fellow stole a horse, or cut up other antics, we used to tie him up and give him a real good thrashing; and he always cleared right out, and we never saw any more of him. It's the best way of getting rid of the rogues that was ever tried, and without expense to the State." Mr. Corwin, never failed to carry his point by a joke, if the argument was against him, only made a brief reply: "Mr. Speaker, I have often been puzzled to account for the vast emigration from Connecticut to the West; but the gentleman last up has explained it to my satisfaction." It is almost needless to say that Mr. Corwin's bill passed by an overwhelming majority.

Industry.

Man must have occupation, or be miserable. Toil is the price of sleep and appetite,—of health and enjoyment. The very necessity which overcomes our natural sloth is a blessing. The whole world does not contain even a briar or thorn which Nature could have spared. We are happier with the sterility, which we can overcome by industry, than we could have been with spontaneous plenty and unbounded profusion. The body and the mind are improved by the toil that fatigues them. The toil is a thousand times rewarded by the pleasures which it bestows. Its enjoyments are peculiar. No wealth can purchase them—no indolence can taste them. They flow only from the exertions which repay the laborer.

Why is a railroad car like a bed bug? Because it runs on sleepers.

Democratic Slain.

Every Democratic District and county Convention adds to the long catalogue of dead Democrats.

There's His Deputy Excellency T. J. Jarvis, who last summer essayed to usurp executive functions in the appointment of Railroad Directors. He stumped the State for the unconstitutional Convention act, spoke to "whole acres of people," and reported the "mountains on fire."

Dressed in a little lawless authority, his presumption puffed up the tail of his bogus executive robe, and like a turkey-cock on the sunny side of a barn yard, he strutted around and looked red about the gills. He vainly imagined that he had one foot in the Executive office, and that the Greensboro' Convention would push him right into it, but that sage assemblage pushed the wrong way and the ghastly ghost of the late Jolly Jarvis is flitting over the turbid waters of Tyrrell. As he fell, slaughtered by his friends he exclaimed in the language of Cæsar—"you are a set of brutes to treat me so."

Then there's Shober the short. He makes a chubby corpus. He didn't have any war record worth a cent and no man was considered worth a cent without such a record. He showed that he had done all he could to advance the Democratic cause. But Robbins exhibited his commission as a Confederate Major, showed how he had voted to impeach Holden for attempting to put down the dear Ku Klux, shed a few crocodile tears over the wounds his reputation had received at the hands of the Radicals all for twenty paltry dollars (yankee currency) which he had inadvertently taken as a Senator. These things collapsed Cowlees, who didn't have any Confederate commission and couldn't show any record worth $xx to the party. So the Convention just took one of Robbins x's and put Shober's neck under it and took the other x and put Cowles' neck under it, and then shoved the two xx's up close together and built a platform on them and mounted xx Robbins on that 'ere platform and Shober is a squirming and Cowles is a cussing under them xx's yet.

The other dead Democrats will have to lie over till next issue.—Era.

His Record in Brief.

A. S. Merrimon, the Ku Klux Candidate for Governor, went into the Commissary Department at Raleigh before the State seceded. He invited Geo. W. Kirk into a meeting at Ashville, at the close of the war, and introduced resolutions applauding his patriotism; but afterwards denounced him as a desperado and murderer. He was Superior Court Judge in 1867, but resigned because he was ordered to allow all citizens "without respect to race, color or previous condition" to be drawn as Jurors. In 1868, he sold his principles for the nomination for Associate Justice on the Supreme Court bench. In 1868 he voted and labored zealously for Frank P. Blair, who declared the Amendments to the Constitution "unconstitutional, revolutionary and void," and that the President elect ought to overturn the Carpet-bag Government of the South with the bayonet." He opposed the present Constitution of North Carolina in toto. He drew the bills for the Swepson Railroad ring that robbed the State of millions. He, giving vent to the feelings of his Ku Klux supporters for an Associate Justiceship, gave an "opinion" against the Homestead. He denounced Holden for attempting to put down the Ku Klux. He defended and apologised for Ku Klux criminals and murderers

CARTER AND COBB—THE DISCUSSION AT ELIZABETH CITY.

The Congressional canvass in this District has fairly opened and the candidates are regularly at work on the stump. They spoke at this place on Monday. The discussion was opened by Col. DAVID M. CARTER, the Democratic candidate. He is evidently a man of ability—possessing talent and culture. He has many of the elements of the orator, but we were pained to find that he likewise had some that make up the demagogue. He came heralded as one whose thunder bolt logic, oratory and rhetorical flourishes would annihilate his competitor, but the high expectations of his friends went down like the mercury in the thermometer on a cool day when they found that the flashes of lightning they expected to see accompany the peals of thunder did'nt flash. The truth is the Colonel has failed to keep himself posted—has taken a Rip Van Winkle nap and hence is not only behind the times but wofully ignorant of the system of government under which we live. He demonstrated conclusively, and we believe to the satisfaction of fair minded men of his own party, that a man who did not know any more about national affairs than he did ought not to go to Congress.

Col. CARTER spoke one hour. He was replied to by Hon. CLINTON L. COBB, the Republican candidate. This is Mr. COBB'S third canvass. He completely vindicated his course in Congress, as well as the course of the great National Republican Party of which he is a representative and standard bearer. His speech was replete with facts, with argument and with the kind of logic that weighs with honest men. And he likewise demoustrated that he could be eloquent as well as his weighty competitor. His effort more than satisfied his friends and we have heard many of his political opponents speak favorably of his speech.

The discussions thus far has been pleasant, courteous and friendly. This is as it should be. From all quarters we learn that there is no strength being developed in favor of Col. CARTER and that the Republican prospects are growing brighter and brighter.

WHAT THE REPUBLICAN PARTY HAS DONE FOR AGRICULTURE.

A majority of the people of the United States are engaged in the independent and honorable employment of cultivating the soil. There are about two millions of farms, owned by their occupants, and these two millions of homes are the center of general intellegence, independence of thought, patriotism, attachment to duty and devotion to the highest interests of civilization. These men are preeminintly the nobility of our Republic, whose agregate judgement, calmly and intelligently formed, constitutes one of its main supports.

Before the advent to power of the Republican party, a few clerks and laborers were employed in the Interior Department to distribute large quantities of garden seeds. These seeds were bought in the open market, and distributed indiscriminately by apportionment to Members of Congress, and were, moreover, so generally of bad quality, that they became a nuisance alike to the sender and receiver. In May, 1862, notwithstanding the exigencies of the war, the Agricultural Department was established; and subsequently removed to a suitable building, surrounded by propagating gardens and conservatories. For some years past it has given most important aid to agriculture, by its very able and accurate reports; by encouraging agricultural and horticultural associations; by the careful distribution for trial of rare seeds and new grasses; and by its etymological researches. The fact that the late Commissioner, Mr. Capron, has been transferred to Japan, to organize and teach a better system of agriculture in the Far East, is a very high compliment, not only to him, but to the American nation. That our light should shine so brightly that even the nations beyond the Pacific should see the blaze, constitutes a complete answer to critics and reporters, who so frequently pass an ex cathedra opinion upon those subjects upon which they are most profoundly ignorant.

A TRILEMMA.

The Democratic members of the Legislature told the people that one of three thing must be done unless a Convention was called to change the Constitution. They said that if the Convention was not called, they, the Democratic members of the Legislature, must either—

1. Levy the tax; or,
2. Resign their seats; or,
3. Perjure themselves.

They did not levy the tax, neither did they resign their seats. They concluded to take the last alternative.

We are fully persuaded that there are enough honest, truth loving people in the State to brand these men as they properly deserve.

A LITTLE TRUTH FROM THE TRIBUNE.

In the better and purer days of its career the New York Tribune was noted for its reliability and veracity. Since it has taken its "new departure" it has become the most reckless journal in the country. In a recent article however, referring to North Carolina politics, it stumbles once more nearly up to the line of truth. It says:

Once in power in the Legislature, the Democrats thirsted for the other offices, especially for the Judgeships, which run for a long terms of years. The only way to get at them was to change the Constitution. They were not strong enough in the Legislature to do this in the way prescribed by the Constitution, but they hit upon a method not mentioned in the organic law at all, and, claiming that the people had the reserved right to hold a Constitutional Convention whenever they wished, they called a special election last Summer to decide whether there should be a Convention or not. At this election the Democrats were beaten, as they deserved to be. The majority against them was about 9,300.

* * * * * * *

The most effective campagin cry of the Republicans is the charge of Ku Kluxism against their opponents. This is their strong point, and here they hit their adversaries hard and in a vulnerable spot. The wretched crime and folly of Ku Kluxism, unquestionably aided, encouraged, or apologized for by a considerable portion of the Democracy of North Carolina, now returns to plague the men who invented it or permitted it to exist. If the Democrats lose the coming election, it will be solely because of the Ku Klux outrages which were perpetrated two years ago in the counties of Caswell and Alamance, and were revived last Summer to some extent in Rutherford and other counties. The character, objects, and crimes of the Ku Klux have been fully exposed in the courts, and have shocked the moral sense of all decent, law-abiding people.

Let the Greeley Democrats of North Carolina read and digest.

DEMOCRATIC WASTE AND EXTRAVAGANCE.

As a few specimens of the proceedings and acts of the party that is now making such a flourish of trumpets about retrenchment and reform, let us look for a moment at a few facts and figures and see how these tally with their loud-mouthed and hypocritical declarations.

The Republicans put the salary of the Attorney General at $1,200 00

The late Democratic Legislature put the pay of the Attorney General as follows;

As Attorney General	$1,200 00
As attendance on Supreme Court	200 00
As Fraud Commissioner	1,500 00
As Reporter	600 00
For sale of Reports	1,000 00
Total yearly pay	$4,800 00

Again, look at the vast sum that was wasted on party favorites in the impeachment trial.

The following are the figures, viz:

Three extra lawyers 44 days	$3,000 00
Reporting, one man and staff, 44 days	4,375 00
Paper	2,940 40
Printing and stitching	5,615 50
Pay of witnesses	5,655 20
Any of members, 170, at $5,00 per day	37,400 00
Pay of clerks. door keepers, &c	2,564 00
Fuel and lights and 44 cords of wood	200 00
Clerk and mesenger for lawyers	350 00
Total amount	$61,900 10

This is enough to pay the schooling of more than ten thousand children for six months!

HOW THEY SPENT THE PEOPLE'S MONEY.

When the Democrats begin to prate about Republican extravagance and corruption just turn the tables on them by charging that the recent Democratic Legislature spent the people's money in a most extravagant and uncalled for manner in impeaching Gov. HOLDEN for trying to put down the Ku Klux; in considering the impeachment of Judge LOGAN for something the Constitution did not name; in refusing to receive petitions from the people and denouncing those that dared attempt to petition; in passing laws shielding Ku Klux criminals from justice and inciting them to perjury; in passing apportionment bills that disfranchised over twenty thousand citizens; in passing revolutionary Convention bills that were to rob the people of various rights and privileges; in preparing places for their dirty workers by trampling down the Constitution; in smoothing over the stealings and overdrawings of their minions; in starving the convicts while the "rotten fish" Directory stuffed the appropriations in their pockets; and in instituting investigations when no reason for them existed. By charging these facts, backed by indubitable evidence, you effectually silence all their batteries.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT.

Before our next issue the delegates to the Baltimore Convention will have met, and hopelessly mad, will have gone straight to their doom. GREELEY will be endorsed, we think there is no doubt of that, and the organization of the party will go "where the wood bine twineth." Lifelong Democrats—those who have felt themselves powerless to avert the suicide of the party, fold their hands and see it drift hopelessly towards the rapids down the fatal plunge of Niagara. They shut their eyes and await the shock which they know will end the party they have worked for long and hard.

These things, so full of gloom to the Old Democracy, are full of joyful promise to the party of Equal Rights, of Progress, of National Integrity. While its old antagonist approaches dissolution, the Republican party—the party of the people—renews its strength and prepares for fresh victory and prolonged usefulness.

Its candidates are of the people and they command the popular affection and confidence. There is no longer any doubt about the result.

The poor people of North Carolina should never forget that the Republican party gave them their Homesteads, the Mechanic's and Laborer's lien law, and the right to vote for every officer named in the Coustitution.

COMING OVER.

The prospect is certainly cheering. The Republicans of North Carolina are gaining strength every day. There is a perfect stampede of Democrats over into our ranks. From various parts of the State we have reliable news that large numbers of men who have heretofore been allied with the Democracy are persuaded at last that Republicanism is right and must triumph, and as an evidence of their sincerity they are declaring their adhesion to it.

And there is another reason for this. As the Democratic party is committing hari kari by swallowing HORACE GREELEY they prefer to come over to Gen. GRANT. They realize that he has made a good President; that his determination to have peace and security for life and property is of more consequence to this State than anything the White Hat candidate would be likely to do. North Carolina must have peace. It is not only essential but absolutely the first condition of prosperity. This the people must and are determined to have.

AN OUTRAGE IN CASWELL COUNTY.

Just before going to press we received a copy of the New North State giving the account of the disgraceful conduct of violent Democratic partizans and Ku Klux at Yanceyville and Milton (in Caswell County) during Republican meetings, which were held in those places the past week; that stones, brick and rotten eggs were thrown at the speakers and at a large American flag there suspended.

It is a shame and disgrace on the Democracy that they suffer such acts to be committed. They not only react against the party but they are injurious to our State and people and have a tendency to stagnate all kinds of business. Such scenes are unanswerable arguments in favor of continuing the Republican party in power.

EX-GOV. RANDOLPH'S OPINION OF HORACE GREELEY.

At the recent Democratic State Convention of New Jersey a speech was made by Ex-Gov. RANDOLPH. In speaking of HORACE GREELEY he said:

His Liberal Republican strength, as thus far developed, is like a scattering of Jersey marl in our corn-hills; it is very encouraging to the slender stalk of June, it may help to keep moist the rapidly growing fibers in hot July and August; but the stalk that withstauds the trying September and October days and nights, that brings forth the well-filled and ripened ears for the November harvest, must rest its hopes upon the enduring strength and fertility of our broad Democratic acres. It is well known that my judgement has been against the approval of the Cincinnati ticket, which seems to me, as a Democrat, a political anomaly.

HOW CHANGED.

In the better days of the Democratic party it rallied the masses to the bugle blast of "principle, not men." But today its cry is give us a man who can beat GRANT whether he has any principle or not. Oh, how changed.

Since the nomination of Col. D. M. Carter in the first district, by the Democrats, their leading organs have quit abusing the "Leaguers." Col. Carter was a bright and shining light among the Union Leaguers of the first district. He wouldn't be satisfied with an ordinary initiation, but come all the way to Raleigh to get that much-abused man, Holden, to swear him in. And Governor Holden swore him into the Leauges in the old Standard office.

As soon as Col. Carter quit the Leaugues, he got to be "respectable" again, and now he's Democratic candidate for Congress. Well, well, well, who'd a thought it?—Raleigh Era.

Col. CARTER, in his speech at Elizabeth City, denied that he ever was a member of the "Loyal League." We never knew of any organization with that name in the State. But dare he deny that he was initiated in and was an active member of the "Union League?" No. There are too many living witnesses. His attempt to change the name don't help him out of the dilemma.

But Minnesota and Maryland Democracy went for Cincinnati with a wild rush which might be compared at will either to a Potomac freshet or a Western prairie fire."—Tribune.

Exactly. But would it not have been quite as near the truth to have compared it to a certain drove of hogs which acted in much the same way in Galilee once upon a time. Take warning from scripture.

There is nothing so sensitive as the faintest shadow of danger to the great business interests of the nation. The financial pulse always indicates the condition of affairs. Well, how stands the solid commercial strength of the nation towards Gen. GRANT? Why it shows confidence in his ability and integrity and policy. Need more be said?

That HORACE GREELEY, with all his editorial ability, has never had any experience as a statesman is well known. He has ever been crotchety, uncertain, and wavering. The thoughtful men of the country feel that it would be unwise to give up a safe man and policy for a man like the editor of the Tribune.

The June report of the Agricultural Department indicates a yield of about two hundred and twenty millions of bushels of wheat this year, ten millions less than in 1871. The average of the crop is better than expected, but there is a number of causes which lead us to look for an advance in prices in the Autumn'

It is always a safe rule to judge men or measures by results—by success or lack of it. This rule applied to President GRANT and his administration settles the question among honest men as to the wisdom of risking any change at this time.

Three hundred millions of the National debt paid since Grant has occupied the Presidential chair.

"Anything to beat GRANT." So said JEFFERSON DAVIS and ROBERT E. LEE.

General Grant has never been beaten and never will.—Horace Greeley.

Cassius M. Clay opposes Grant, because "as soon as he was made President he put the son of Stephen A. Douglas, the most powerful of our enemies, in the most confidential place as his private secretary."—Exchange.

It was a mistake, wasn't it, to put anybody's son into that most confidential place. If the appointment had been confeared on somebody's father, instead, it would have been more satisfactory no doubt.

We have repeatedly asserted, and it is true, that a member of Congress in accord with the national administration can be of more service to this District than one whose sympathies, and acts, and votes would be against it. Hence, it is to the interest of the people of the District to vote for and elect Hon. C. L. COBB.

We have a question. Who was it that got SWEEPSON, the Democratic State swindler, off from all his prosecutions in Western North Carolina? If the record don't lie it was one W. M. SHIPP? He is the Democratic candidate for Attorney General.

A Western cotemporary insists that the entire JOE TURNER crowd are "snakes in the grass." This is severe on the snakes. But no one can read the Sentinel without being struck with the fact that its editor a huge bore-constrictor.

Pasquotank County Republican Convention.

Pursuant to notice the delegates elected by the several townships of the County met in Convention at the Court House in Elizabeth City on Saturday June 29th 1872 at 2 o'clock P. M.

The Convention was called to order by Thos. A. Sykes the Chairman of the County Executive Committee, when on motion James H. Shaw Esq., was called to the chair and Geo. D. Pool Jr. appointed Secretary.

After settling the question of credentials, on motion, the delegates retired to Woods Hall.

It was decided to proceed to the nomination of Commissioners, when a Committee of one from each township was selected to present a ticket. After consultation the Committee reported the following viz; Charles W. Smith, James S. Wilcox, Edmund Daily, Emanuel Davis and Abram Morries. The report was adopted.

It was then agreed to proceed to the nomination of a Candidate for Sheriff.

The names of Col. Charles Gurkin and John L. Wood were placed in nomination. The vote stood 4823 votes for Guirkin and 3732 votes for Wood. Col. Guirkin was declared the nominee.

The Convention then proceeded to nominate a candidate for Register of Deeds. John T. Price and Wm. A Daily were placed in nomination. The vote stood 4984 votes for Price and 2440 votes for Daily. Mr. Price was declared to be nominated.

Next proceeded to nominate a candidate for Treasurer. The names of Benj. C. Brothers and Thomas J. Murden were placed before the Convention. The vote stood 4564 for Brothers and 3728 for Murden. Mr. Brothers was declared the nominee.

The Convention then proceeded to nominate a candidate for Legislature. The names of Frank M. Godfrey, Hugh Cale and Wm. J. Munden were placed in nomination. The vote was 4979 for Godfrey, 1797 for Cale and 1776 for Munden. Mr. Godfrey was nominated.

The following nominations were then made by acclamation: For Coroner, Miles Commander and for Surveyor, J. Q. A. Wood.

The following resolutions were adopted.

Resolved: That we the representatives of the Republican party of Pasquotank most cordially endorse the action of the State and National Republican Conventions and heartily ratify the nominations made.

2. That the official course of Hon. JOHN POOL in the United States Senate and of Hon. C. L COBB in the National Congress meets our full approval and the latter, being renominated by the party, shall have our earnest support.

3. That our standard bearer for the State Senate C. W. GRANDY Jr. and J. L. CHAMBERLAIN, are earnest, active and true Republicans and we pledge them every honorable effort to secure their election.

4. That for the ticket we this day place in nomination we ask the support of every Republican in the county.

The following were appointed the County Republican Executive Committee. Thos. A. Sykes, Hugh Cale, J. S. Wilcox, John B. Cartwright, J. W. Brite, W. B. Cartwright and Henby J. Lane.

On motion adjourned.

Greeley's Portrait Down.

The Schoharie Union gives the following amusing paragraph: "For 30 years a portrait of Horace Greeley has adorned the sanctum of the Union office. When he advocated secession in 1860 the picture was turned with face to lhe wall. As soon as Horace saw the error of his ways the picture was reversed, and once more the smiling countenance of Greeley illumined our office. In 1864, when he thrertened to bolt the nomination of Abraham Lincoln, the picture was again reversed. Once more he repented, and the picture was reversed. When he signed Jeff. Davis' bail bond we turned him again to the wall for three months, and again when he took up the defense of Tammany Hall. We have tried him long enough. He is the greatest political acrobat of modern times, and now that he has gone over to the camp of the Democracy we don't propose to take the chances of placing his portrait to the right about a dozen times in the future as we have in the past. This time we take the portrait down."

How a Poor Boy rose.

Ambitious boys who may feel disposed to repine over present obstacles, and to doubt their ability to rise in the world, should recall the early career of Senator Wilson and take courage. In a speech made at Great Falls, N. H., February 24, 1872, he said: "I left home at ten years of age, and served an apprenticeship of eleven years, receiving a month's schooling each year, and, at the end of eleven years of hard work, a yoke of oxen and six sheep, which brought me eighty-four dollars for eleven years hard toil! I never spent the amount of one dollar in money, counting every penny, from lhe time I was born until I was twenty-one years of age. I know what it is to travel weary miles and ask my fellowmen to give me leave to toil."

"It is but too evident," says a Democratic cotemporary, "that Greeley has but the barest handful of adherents who would follow him out of the Republican organization; whereas, on the other hand, there are countless hosts of Democrats who would sooner vote for 'the eternal devil' than for a man who has been, for thirty years, the fiercest assailant of their party.

A Bourbon Democrat Farewell.

COLONEL BLANTON DUNCAN GOES TO HIS TENT.

The Louisville Couriar Journal has at last succeeded in reading Colonel Blanton Duncan out of the Democratic party. He writes a farewell letter, and retires, as he frankly says, to avoid the mortification of a trip up "Salt river, and to leave standing room for his Greeley friends on the over-crowded steamer." Hear him:

To the Editor of the Courier Journal:

The Courier Journal has certainly paid enough money to its compositors for putting my name gratis in its columns. Please discontinue the advertisement from to-day. In 1868 Mr. Greeley disclaimed in Canada the wish or thought of ever becoming a candidate for the Presidency. He expressed then the only sentiment which I concur in:

"Let a public man honestly go forward, saying what he believes to be just, doing what he thinks is right, and though he may not probably be President, he can enjoy a very large measure of freedom of opinion, as well as freedom of action, though freedom of opinion is the very last thing that a tree people are disposed to accord to their public men."

This is all that I claim, and Mr. Greeley's followers must concede it, as I shall not obtrude my political views upon other people voluntarily.

It is an infatuation of insane people to consider other people crazy. Everybody is aware that the Greleyites and myself entertain those ideas reciprocally of each other. But which is the lunatic can only be decided by future events. When the meeting of the 15th resolved itself into a Greeley Club, I and other Democrats no longer participated, except as spectators. As there is a clear intention to disband the Kentucky Democratic organization, and the great mass of its former members are now enlisted under the lead of two most prominent Radicals and Abolitionists of twenty years' standing, I have no more right to enter their meetings or conventions, in order to produce discord, than I would have to disturb the meetings and conventions which support two other distinguished Radicals. As I can find no principles supported by either which accord with my views' it surely ought not to wound anybody's susceptibilities to find me disposing of my own property, even if I voluntarily distranchise myself.

The Fordham jockey, after studied effort, has succeeded in ruling off the stanch old racer "Democrat." The race affords, therefore, no further interest to such "Bourbons" as myself. But tens of thousands of former Democrats, who cannot refrain from taking sides even in a dog fight, and who will consider that no political obligation binds them, may go further and exercise their undoubted right of choosing between the two, and may prefer General Grant to Mr. Greeley. As they are all of age I have no advice to offer to them, and none to those who persist in committing hari-kari under Mr. Greeley's banner. When the local and other offices not only in this State, but in many others which were Democratic, pass under the control of the compact, well organized Grant party, because of the destruction of our late organization, it is possible that the present sanguine local politicians may ruefully admit "that Bourbon was not crazy after all."

The respectable minority who agree with me can still "eat drink and be merry," having no responssibility resting dpon them, and free from all the excitements of the coming months. We can hope that the county will be safe under any circumstances, and when we go fishing next November we will certainly avoid the classic banks of Salt river, because too many of our late friends may be crowded for standing room.

Hoping that my old friends may all have an agreeable, harmonsiously, and not dangerously enthusiastic summer's entertainment, even if it should be a wild goose chase, I beg respectfully to be allowed not to engage in it.

BLANTON DUNCAN
Louisville, June 17, 1872.

Hon. C. L. Cobb.

Between David M. Carter and Clinton L. Cobb, there is no parallel. Clinton L. Cobb stands before the people a fire-tried Republican; a man loyal to his government; an advocate of the rights of all men; a friend to the poor man, and a defender of the poor man's homestead. He has stood as a wall of brass between liberty and oppression. He stands today as the unflinching advocate of a free government, and an enemy to that party whose argument has been, and is now, the rope, the whip, the torch! No man in North Carolina has done more and suffered more for the good of his country—and it is the pride of the freemen to acknowledge his services, by giving him in August next such a majority as will consign to oblivion the name of David M. Carter.—Era.

Simon M'Keever, of Summit Hill, now in his ninety-first year, says the Mauch Chunk Gazette, is one of the most wonderful men we have ever met. Throughout his long life he has been a hard working man, but he still exhibits the life of a hale and hearty man of sixty-five. He is the father of twenty-one children, nearly all of whom are living. Twenty years ago he came from Ireland to this county, bringing with him his good wife and seventeen children—probably the largest family that ever came over the water. Mr. M'Keever still works every day, and during last year he did not lose a moment's time on account of sickness. He walks a mile each morning to his work and seems to enjoy the exercise. He recollects distinctly the important events of Irish history for nearly a century, and is always glad to talk on the subject. He entertains visitors for hours, being extremely communicative upon all subjects.

In the last number of the New National Era, Mr. Fredrick Douglas handles the Hon. Cassius M. Clay rather severely for his recent manifesto to the colored people, advising them to vote for Mr. Greeley. Mr. Douglass thinks that there is no man in the country who could be consulted to less advantage than Mr. Clay. While according him all honor for his heroic defense in other days of free speech, Mr. Douglass denies his fitness to enlighten or advise colored men as to their political duties in the present crisis. He reminds Mr. Clay, while he has served the cause of abolitionism, there has been ugly breaks in his devotion, and that it is undeniable that he at different times sorely injured the cause of the colored men. He recalls to his recollection that in 1844 he fell as he has fallen now, and endeavored to put his slave-holding kinsman into the Presidential chair; that he engaged in a war for the extension of slavery, and was again allowed when he returned home to remount his old hobby and ride into a comfortable office upon it under Abraham Lincoln. He reminds Mr. Clay that he endorsed the policy of Andrew Jehnson, who endeavored to prevent the elevation of the blacks and to restore the rebels to power. "Mr. Clay" Mr. Douglass believes to be "a queer, restless, but irrepressible man, but poorly qualified to enlighten the negroes of Kentucky upon the issues of the present campaign."

How many of our lady readers ever dreamed that we send to Great Britain, annually, fifteen million dollars in gold for the single article of spool cotton?

Democracy never punished a public criminal, although hundreds stole and plundered the public treasury under their administrations. Why? Because they were all accomplices and a "fellow feeling" existed between them.

On the 23rd ult., a fire proke out in Greensboro, this State, burning the Court House, Caldwell's Bank, the Southern Hotel, Mendenhall & Staple's law office and other buildings, the loss amounting to $50,000 or more, with no insurance except $5,500 on Porter's drug store. The court house was the finest in the State, and worth about $20,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The last Legislature wanted to make a new county out west to swell the Democratic representation in the next Legislature. As Gov. Graham had two sons in they Senate the named the new county Graham to secure their influence. And as there were two Robbins in the Senate, the county seat of Graham was named Robbinsville, to get their votes. As soon as the next Legislature meets, and it will be Republican, we hope the name of the town will be changed to XXville or "XX Robbinsville." We ain't particular which.—Era.

It is quite easy to find fault with any Administration, but very difficult to conduct one. Our Democratic friends will prepare to do so with Greeley, whose highest merit and wisdom lies in his unwavering opposition to everything the Democratic party has preformed for more than thirty years. It will be an odd kind of a contest; but I feel entirley confident that the solid, good sense of our intelligent people will' by an overwhelming majority, prefer the prosperity and substantial reforms secured by General Grant's Administration to the wild, harumscarum, irresponsible, crotchety, and reactionary policy which alone could be the result of an administration by Horace Greeley.—Senator Shermon.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisements in this issue.
Assignee's Notice.

Local and Personal.

☞ Dull—business and the City. Interesting local items are about as scarce as they usually get.

☞ Our friend SAMUEL MODLIN has laid some very fine Peaches on our table. They tasted as natural as a—peach.

☞ The work on the new Hotel is being vigorously pushed forward. It will be one of the finest buildings in Eastern Carolina.

☞ With the mercury high up in the nineties we are assured that Summer has come in earnest. The cool breezes and ice water are luxuries now.

☞ The appointments of the Congressional and Senatorial candidates are announced in this issue of the CAROLINIAN. Let the people turn out and hear them.

☞ Our Devil insists that a young lady in passing another should not turn around to see what the other wears, because the other is engaged in doing the same thing.

☞ Still coming in—new subscribers. Those wanting a reliable paper—one that never misses but is always up to time—are obliged to take the NORTH CAROLINIAN.

☞ Hon JOHN POOL and family are now at Raleigh. The Senator will remain there most of the time until after the August election. He will make several speeches during the campaign.

☞ The Republicans of Camden held their County Convention on Saturday. They nominated a strong ticket. We place it under our regular head. The proceedings have not yet reached us.

☞ We this week place the full Republican ticket of each county in this Senatorial District in proper position and will leave them stand until after the election. Chowan and Currituck will be added as soon as we receive them.

☞ The Democrats have substituted the name of Maj. JESSE J. YEATES, of Murfresboro in the place of Dr. SPEED on their Senatorial ticket. The Major was in town last week, so was Mr. SKINNER, the other candidate.

☞ Every voter should remember that in accordance with the late law he must register in the township in which he resides, and that it must be done before the 1st day of August, as that is the day of election, and on election day no registration books will be open.

☞ To morrow will be the "glorious Fourth," our National Anniversary "come again." As no arrangements have been made for any general demonstration here we presume the celebration will be of an individual rather than a public nature. Do not let us forget that the day marks another milestone in the progress of American freedom. Never let Independence Day be obliterated from the memory of any decendant of the patriot Fathers of '76.

☞ We beg to be excused. Scarcely a week passes that we are not requested, sometimes entreated, to give a first rate puff to some political aspirant whose name we never heard of, and of whose qualifications we have not the remotest idea. The applicants seem to take it very hardly when we respectfully decline to give them the "push" they desire. They say it costs us nothing and helps them. But they fail to comprehend that it is no part of the business of a well and properly conducted paper to boost boobies into notice and help wind-bags manufacture reputations.

☞ Col. CARTER, the Democratic candidate for Congress, was, at the organization of the Republican party, as radical as anybody. He was more—he was a member and organizer of the Union League. But he had ambition—strong aspirations for office. Because the Republicans did not see fit to gratify him by acceding to his demands he became soured and—left the party. That the Republicans may have treated him badly we do not deny, but that he has acted badly in his later political course there can be no question. For his apostacy he has at last got the empty honor of a nomination for Congress. He is reported to be wealthy—a good subject for the party leeches to bleed. It is rumored that this is being done to the tune of thousands.

☞ Mr. COBB made a good point on Col. CARTER the other day at Roanoke Island. The latter, in his speech, dilated largely upon the Salt question—its importance as one of the great necessaries of life, and especially to the Fishermen of Dare County. He then charged that when the bill was up before Congress to repeal the duty on salt Mr. COBB voted No. In his reply Mr. COBB thanked his competitor for making such an able and eloquent argument for him, for having felt that the Salt question was one in which a large portion of his constituents were interested, when the bill alluded to came up he felt it to be his duty to vote Aye, and from a copy of the Congressional Globe which he happened to have in his pocket, he proved that he had done so. This little "argument" of Col. CARTER, we are reliably informed, made at least 50 votes for Mr. COBB in Dare County alone.

☞ It is bad enough to have our chirography criticized—some people do seem to have no eye for grace or beauty—but it is infinitely worse to be cursed to the locality noted for warmth of climate, where ice water is esteemed a luxury, for not being able to guess the conundrums in the shape of manuscript too often sent us for publication. Our prayer is for correspondents to write carefully and plain that we may escape undeserved vituperation and invective. While we pride ourself upon the possession of a good average faculty of guessing, we confess that we sometimes meet with cases beyond the utmost exercise of that gift.

☞ In our drives through the country we are pleased to see encouraging changes for the better in the appearances of the homes of many of our farmers. More attention is being paid to the buildings and the surroundings; there is more taste, everything is being made to assume a more cheerful and comfortable look. This is as it should be. Let it continue, aye, increase, for it is a great mistake to suppose that money spent in reasonably improving the appearance of a place is thrown away. It may be doubted whether there is any more direct method of increasing the pecuniary value. Certainly its market value will depend very much upon its outside appearance. Tasteful and well painted buildings, well arranged yards and gardens with neat fences, shade trees properly disposed, good farm fences and cleanly kept fields will not only set off a farm to great advantage but make an amazing difference when it becomes to be sold. And even if it be not sold, these things will add amazingly to the enjoyment of it by its possessor, if he be not blind to everything but the dollar. But this is not all. Every man owes it to the community in which he lives to contribute to general reputation and to public enjoyment by making all his sorroundings as attractive as possible. There is such a thing, it is true, as paying too much attention to the outside and to show, but there is reason in all things, and a measure of time and attention and expense should be devoted by everyone to making his farm and his home more attraction every year that he lives.

☞ The Republicans of this county held their nominating Convention on Saturday. Each township was represented. The Convention was called to order by THOS. A. SYKES, Chairman of the Executive Commitee, who after a short address, counseling prudence and harmony, called JAMES H. SHAW Esq., to preside. On taking the chair Mr. SHAW made a pertinent and well timed speech, reminding the Convention that the work before it was important—that the influence of its deliberations would extend beyond the County and District, and if wise would aid in swelling the majorities for the State and National tickets. After some preliminary business the delegates retired in a body to WOOD'S Hall and there made the nominations. It had been decided by the Executive Committee that each township should cast its vote in the Convention upon the basis of the United States Census returns.

This allowed Salem, with a Republican vote of 181, to cast 1324 votes; Nixonton with a Republican vote of 290 to cast 1755 votes; Mt. Herman with a Republican vote of 137 to cast 1184 votes; Elizabeth City with a Republican vote of 239 to cast 2807 votes; Providence with a Republican vote of 23 to cast 520 votes, and New Land with a Republican vote of 155 to cast 1481 votes. For Commissioners there appeared to be no contest. The names appear in the proceedings published elsewhere. While they are all good men the question involuntarily suggests itself whether, in view of the fact that some experience is necessary to successfully regulate and manage the finances of the County, it was wise to select an entire new Board? For Sheriff there was some feeling and a spirited contest. JOHN L. WOOD has made an efficient officer and is popular among the masses, but his competitor Col. GUIRKIN had devoted and working friends and secured the nomination. For Register of Deeds our young friend JOHN T. PRICE was nominated. He is a good Republican and, we think, will make a good officer. For Treasurer the contest was close between our friends T. J. MURDEN and B. C. BROTHERS. F. M. GODFREY was nominated for the Legislature. That he will be elected by a large majority there is no question. Our friend MILES COMMANDER was nominated for Coroner. A better man for the place could not have been found. We have but a word to add. The ticket has been regularly nominated and it shall have our support. Our motto is to vote the whole ticket from President on down to Coroner—vote it straight without scratching a single name.

A PITIFUL CONDITION.—It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific disease; they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure. In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two to sink afterward into a more pitiable condition than ever (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant were resorted to,) but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time by administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain-head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Persevere until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the material of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve and brain, flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum with which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished.

FOUTZ'S
CELEBRATED
Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.
It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Summer Drinks.

Ice-water should be drank but sparingly. A most excellent substitute for it is pounded ice taken in small lumps into the mouth and allowed to dissolve upon the tongue. This will prove very refreshing and much more enduring in its effects.

Lemonade is a simple and grateful beverage. To make it: Roll the lemons in something hard till they becomes soft; grate off the rinds, cut the lemons in slices and squeeze them in a pitcher (a new clothes-pin will answer for a squeeze in lieu of something better); pour on the require quantity of water, and sweeten according to tast. The grated rinds, for the sake of their aroma, should be added too. After mixing thoroughly, set the pitcher aside for half an hour; then strain the liquor through a jelly strainer, and put in the ice.

Travelers who find it inconvenient to use lemons can carry a box of lemon sugar prepared from citric acid and sugar, a little of which in a glass of ice water will furnish quite a refreshing drink, and one that will help oftentimes to avert sick-headache and biliousness. Citric acid is obtained from the juice of lemons and limes.

Perry is a delicious beverage made from cherries, and will keep a year or more. Take six pounds of cherries and bruse them; pour on a pint and a half of hot water, and boil for fifteen minutes; strain through a flannel bag, and add three pounds of sugar. Boil for half an hour more, or until the liquid will sink to the bottom of a cup of water (try it with a teaspoonful of the liquid); then turn into jelly cups and cover with paper dipped in the white of an egg.

To prepare the drink: Put a spoonful of the jelly into a goblet of water, and let it stand about ten minutes; then stir it up and fill with pounded ice. Currants and raspberries made into "shrub" furnish a pleasant and cooling drink when mixed with ice-water. Pounded ice is also an agreeable addition to a saucer of strawberries, raspberries, or currants. Pound it until it is almost as white as snow, and spread it over the berries. With fruit it is also an excellent substitute for cream.

Water ices are always acceptable. Those made of lemon, orange, currants, strawberries, raspberries, and pineapple, are much improved by adding the stiff beaten whites of four eggs to every two quarts of the liquid. Put it in just as it is turned into the freezer, and it will freeze in a foam.—Scribner's for July.

A Useful Drug.

Ammonia, or, as it is more generally called, spirits of hartshorn' is a powerful alkali, and dissolves grease and dirt with great ease. It has been recommended very highly for domestic purposes. For washing paint, put a teaspoonful in a quart of moderately hot water, dip in a flannel cloth, and then wipe off the woodwork; no scrubbing will be necessary. For taking grease spots from any fabric use the ammonia nearly pure, then lay white blotting paper over the spot, and then iron it lightly. For washing lace put about twelve drops in a pint of warm suds. To clean silver, mix two teaspoonfuls of ammonia in a quart of hot suds. Put in your silverware and wash, using an old nail-brush or tooth-brush for the purpose. For cleaning hair-brushes, etc., simply shake the brushes up and down in a mixture of a tablespoonful of ammonia to one pint of hot water; when they are cleansed rinse them in cold water and stand them in the wind or in a hot place to dry. For washing finger marks from looking glasses or windows, put a few drops of ammonia on a moist rag and make quick work of it. If you wish your house plants to flouish, put a few drops of the spirits in every pint of water used in watering. A teaspoonful will add much to the refreshing effects of the bath. Nothing is better than ammonia water for washing the hair. In every case rinse off the ammonia with clear water. To which we would only add that, for removing grease spots, a mixture of equal parts of ammonia and alcohol is better than alcohol alone; and for taking out the red stains produced by the strong acids in blue and black clothes there is nothing better than ammonia.—Providence Journal.

Colors and Health.

There are some colors that no person can be cheerful and elastic in spirit if their rooms are tinted with them. A correspondent of a scientific paper, the Builder, states that he had occasion for several years to examine rooms occupied by young women for manufacturing purposes, and he has observed that while the workers in one room would be very cheerful and healthy, the occupants of a similar room, who were employed on the same kind of business, were all inclined to be melancholy, and complained of a pain in the forehead and eyes, and were often ill and unable to work. The only difference he could discover in the rooms was that the one occupied by the healthy workers was wholly white wahsed and that occupied by the melancholy workers was colored with yellow ochre. As soon as the difference strnck him, he had the yellow ochre washed off the walls and then whitened. At once an improvement took place in the health and spirits of the occupants. He pursued his observations and experments, not only in large manufacturies, but also in small apartments and garrets, and he invariably found that the occupants of such apartments, when they were colored yellow or buff, were less healthy than their neighbor in wintenep rooms, and that when the yellow hue disappeared the low spirits and ill-health went with it.

The use of Lemons.

A Correspondent says:—I do not think there is a hundredth part of lemon juice used generally as its valuable qualities would seem to commend. I know of nothing better as a stomachic corrective, as well as a strengthener of the nervous system. We all know that it is used for rheumatism, and I have no doubt it is also good for the gout, if taken regularly three times a day, and at least half a gill at a time. It can be taken in much water or little water, or no water at all. It is not unpleasant, one soon becomes accustomed to it, and would rather drink it than pure water. For the headache it is the best cure I have used; it will relieve it in from ten to fifteen minutes by a single dose. I would not advise less than half a gill at a time. I know people who take it as a preventive of disease and as a refreshment in hot weather. It quenches thirst also better than anything else.

There may be however, excess in the use of lemons as in other things. The acid of this fruit—citric acid—is said to produce emaciation of the body when taken too freely.

"You here, Jenkins! How the deuce did you find your way out?" "Find my way out! Out of where? What do you mean?" "Why, the last I saw of you, you were lost in slumber." "Oh ah; well, I rode out on a nightmare!"

The Duluth Herald apologizes for having advised a married man to get married. It thought he was a widower.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalisis and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where: and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotauk county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3.000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7.00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 9 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary, outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next, balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

A Farm of 200 acres within one mile of Elizabeth City, with good two story dwelling, large barn and stables, and all necessary outhouses, orchard of fine fruit trees, and a large number of ornamental trees and shrubbery around dwelling. This farm is on one of the most public roads in the County—is in a high state of cultivation—has fine and durable fences, &c. Altogether, it is the richest land and most desirable location, anywhere in the neighborhood of the town. Price $6000—one-half cash, balance in easy payments.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fusey Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.

HORNER'S

MARYLAND

SUPER-PHOSPHATE.

(We consult the Chemist's inquiry.)

After 23 years experience in the Fertilizing business, and after establishing a wide reputation for the purity and excellence of his Bone Dust, the subscriber has been induced to prepare a Phosphate suitable to the requirements and every way worthy the attention of the Southern Farmer.

The "MARYLAND" is a invinator and permanent improver of the soil. It stimulates equal to Peruvian Guano, and sustains equal to Bone, being composed almost entirely of these ingredients, with a very liberal per centage of Potash in the residum. There is no adulterator nor inferior article used—every particle of the Phosbhate being of essentiay benefit to the land. Neither pains nor expense have been spared in its preparation, and we claim for it the greatest benefit to the farmer from the smallest outlay.

For Cotton, Wheat and Corn, and as a general stimulant and ailment for worn and impoverished land there can be nothing superior. It is warranted to run as high in Ammonia and higher in Bone Phosphate than any other fertilizer in the market.

Price $50 per ton, in new bags. No charge for delivery.

BONE DUST $45, BONE MEAL $50, DISSOLVED BONE $42, our own manufacture, in new bogs; Eastern and Western BONE DUST $35. PERUVIAN GUANO delivered from Peruvian Government Warehouse at lowest rates. No charge for delivery.

THE GREAT SOUTHERN

TOBACCO SUSTAIN

AND LAND RENEWER.

The Sustain is a specific restorer of the exhausted properties of impoverished and over strained land, and will generously repay the cost of its outlay in the quality and quantity, of the Tobacco Crop, besides permonently improvinn the soil and raising it to its virgin standard.

It gives vigor to the young plant, promotes its rapid growth, and insures, in the matured crop a thickened, heavy leaf.

It is prepared similarly to the Maryland except that it contains much more potash and other Tobacco forming properties.

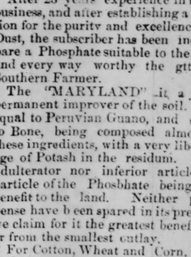
THE WAKEFIELD EARTH CLOSET



THE GREATEST BLESSING OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY IS THE

Discovery of the Dry Earth System and in connection therewith a practical method of using the same in

EARTH CLOSETS AND COMMODES.

We ask every decent person to aid us in banishing from the earth every vile country privy—those loathsome, indecent, pestiferous, health and life destroying structures—the bane of every country community. Every person thus engaged becomes a public benefactor.

By all odds the most complete and perfect yet invented is the

WAKEFIELD PATENT.

They have been adopted by the Central Park Commissioners, and 100 ordered for use in the park.

Application for agencies from responsible parties will be considered.

☞Send for our descriptive pamphlet or call and see the Commodes, at the office of the Wakefield Earth Closet Company.
